

February 9, 2017

Patients are the heart of everything we do at VCU Health. We are relentless in our research and innovation to find the best solution to make their lives better. Heart Failure is a complicated disease. It's chronic and progressive and often impacted by life circumstances. We're fascinated by what's difficult and committed to moving the human experience. That's why VCU Health is a national leader in providing advanced, specialty care to the sickest and most complex patients. During the reporting period of this data we implemented numerous new initiatives specifically designed to improve the quality of life for Heart Failure patients. One such program is the Heart Failure Navigator program that includes an expert interdisciplinary team that provides specialized follow up care and support after a hospital stay.

We continuously strive to improve our services for our community. We encourage everyone to consult with multiple sources when making decision about a hospital or any health care provider. To learn more about VCU Health's Heart Failure program visit VCUHealth.org and click on VCU Pauley Heart Center under Medical Services.